COMPASSION, INTEGRITY

A History of Changing Lives

Twenty years ago, community leaders and medical professionals came together with a simple, but profound idea – everyone in our community deserves health care. Through these individuals' hard work and dedication to compassion, Good Health Clinic opened its doors to uninsured, low-income patients in January 2004. What started with one part-time doctor and a single volunteer helping a few dozen patients has grown to a full-time clinic with 2 locations, 7 staff, over 100+ medical volunteers, and is a comprehensive health solution for those in need.

Lifting the Community

Good Health Clinic is vital in ensuring healthcare access for Florida Key's underserved communities.

Health Equity:

We bridge gaps in healthcare access, serving those who go without essential medical services due to financial constraints.

Preventive Care:

We focus on addressing health issues early, reducing the overall burden on individuals and the healthcare system.

Community Well-Being:

We enhance community health, contributing to a healthier and more productive Florida Keys community as a whole.

Supporting Good Health Clinic aligns with the principles of social responsibility, community building, and the promotion of health equity.

“ Access to a clinic like this has been an incredible blessing for myself and many others in our community. Having this option is the difference between getting health care or suffering in silence and feeling helpless. ”

– Kara Jaeger, GHC Patient
